September 2013

Dear Madame/Sir,

There are two important trade shows for the packaging industry in September: FachPack in Nuremberg and PACK EXPO in Las Vegas. Deciding what to present on-site is a real challenge for each show considering the comprehensive portfolio Bosch Packaging Technology. On the one hand, Bosch has proven as a trusted partner with many years of experience as well as consequent further development of its portfolio for the food, confectionery and pharmaceutical industries. On the other hand, besides offering individual machines and modules, we also supply complex systems and lines for processing and packaging as well as after-sales services.

For the upcoming shows, we put together a compilation of innovations which will enthuse you live on site. Learn more about current trends and innovations we present at FachPack and PACK EXPO in this edition of pack insights!
